

The G-FORCE ADVISER GUIDE

UTRUST APPRECIATION PROGRAM

The G-Force Adviser is the champion of the G-Force and seeks to lead the G-Force in building an attitude of gratitude within the school. The G-Force Adviser guides students as they transform the culture of the school to one of gratitude every day.

DUTIES OF THE G-FORCE ADVISER

- Select or help select your G-Force which is a team of 12 students.
- Establish a system for communicating with G-Force members.
- Hold monthly planning meetings of the G-Force and assigns responsibilities
- Discuss ways to promote and keep the enthusiasm high for the Birthdate Challenge throughout the year!
- Have crew members post Birthdate Challenge posters and have the team do announcements. Get them HERE.
- Get materials for signs, posters and other promotional activities.
- Increase recognition for the G-Force (See suggestion list below)

IDEAS FOR HOW TO INCREASE RECOGNITION OF THE G-FORCE

- Remind the staff of what the G-Force is doing and encourage and support participation.
- Post an introduction of the team on the school's Facebook page. (A great idea is to post video introductions of each of the team members!)
- Create a video talking about what the G-Force is and include the members in the video. Post on the school's Facebook page.
- Recognize and present certificates to the G-Force on Awards Day.
- Ask the yearbook staff to include a photo(s) in the school yearbook.

The G-Force Adviser is the champion of the G-Force and seeks to make the G-Force effective in building an attitude of gratitude within the school.

For Those Participating in The Utrust Culture Initiative

- Discuss other ways to promote building a culture of gratitude. See our suggestions for each month on our Resources Page.
- Encourage students and staff to express thanks to one another, verbally or through acts of kindness
- For monthly promotions, be sure to have the team post posters and do announcements. Get them on our Resources Page.
- Collect success stories and submit to Utrust (COMING SOON), post to the school's social media, your website, and send to the media.
